The Clark County Law Library

The Clark County Law Library is a public research law library that provides equality of access to the most recent statutes, case law and the best available commentary regarding legal issues to the bench, bar, governmental agencies, and the residents of Southern Nevada.

LIBRARY SERVICES

RESEARCH – patrons may use the library to research statutes, case law, and treatises on a variety of legal issues.

REFERENCE SERVICES – the staff of the library can support library users by showing patrons how to use the materials in the collection to research their legal needs.

INTERNET LEGAL RESEARCH – several computers are available to assist patrons in accessing legal information and resources available online. A photo ID is required to utilize library computers.

WESTLAWNEXT®/LEXIS ADVANCE® – patrons may use these databases to search for laws and cases using keywords and citation search strategies. This service is free to the public through the library's subscriptions.

WORD PROCESSING COMPUTERS – computers are available for the drafting of court documents. Print outs and copies can be made for $0.25 per page or $0.16 per page with a copy card.

TYPEWRITERS – are available at no charge.

REFERRALS – for legal issues beyond the scope of the Clark County Law Library's mission, staff will refer patrons to legal services or social service agencies for further assistance.

CONFERENCE ROOM – patrons may reserve the library's conference room for legal purposes such as depositions, mediations and client meetings. Please call 702/455-4696 to make a reservation.

OUR WEBPAGE – the Clark County Law Library webpage: www.ClarkCountyNV.Gov/LawLibrary provides hyperlinks to Nevada, Federal and other States laws, forms, and resources.
